Tributaries proudly introduces a 12 Outlet Powerstrip, Model T12, which features Surge Protection and Line Filtering

As the 2nd product in the Tributaries line of Power Strips, the T12 has many of the features of the previous model T10. Designed to easily accommodate wall-wart type power supplies, the T12 features 12 AC outlets, 8 of which can be rotated 90°. The remaining four fixed outlets have safety shutters. For ease of use, the T12 has a resettable circuit breaker built in to the Power push-button. Two LEDs are provided to indicate proper operation; a red "PROTECTED" LED illuminates when the internal surge protection is functioning correctly and, a 2nd blue "GROUNDED" LED illuminates when the outlet, into which the T12 is connected, is properly grounded. To protect and organize the line cords of the connected equipment, the T12 features a Cord Management Design Clamp.

Electrically, the T12 is rated at 1875 Watts, 125VAC/15A 60Hz. Its Surge Protector circuit covers all three "legs" of the AC line. With a voltage-spike protection of 6KV and a clamping voltage of 330V, the Surge Protector can dissipate 4320 joules of energy. Surge protection is also provided for the Telephone/Modem, Network and "F" connectors. To prevent unwanted EMI/RFI noise from entering connected equipment, the T12 is engineered with a wideband Line Filter that will reduce noise up to 58dB from 150KHz to 100MHz.

To ensure full protection and peace of mind, the Tributaries T12 has been granted 8 separate listings from Underwriter's Laboratory (UL®) ranging from UL1449 "Standard for Surge Protection Devices" to UL1283 "Standard for Electromagnetic Magnetic Interference Filters". The Tributaries® T12 AC Power Strip is RoHS (Restricted or Hazardous Substances) compliant, meeting or exceeding the requirements of California SB 20: The Electronic Waste Recycling Act of 2003.

For U.S. customers, the Tributaries T12 comes with a $25,000 Connected Equipment Warranty as well as a 3 Year Parts & Labor Warranty. Packaged in an attractive plastic clamshell, the Tributaries T12 has an MSRP of $120 and is available now.
